

THE CZAR NOT IMPROVING

HIS APPETITE DECREASING

RUMOR THAT AN OPERATION IS TO BE PERFORMED ON HIM.

THE CZARINA BETTER, ALTHOUGH YET SERIOUSLY ILL—THE CZAR KEPT OUT OF BED AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE—PREPARATIONS FOR HIS RECEPTION IN CORFU STILL IN PROGRESS—HASTENING THE CZAREWITZ'S MARRIAGE.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 22.—A bulletin issued at 8 o'clock this evening says:

"The Emperor slept five hours intermittently last night and arose at the usual time this morning. His appetite has decreased and his strength has not increased."

Grand-duke Vladimir and Princess Alix have passed through Odessa and will be in Livadia by midnight. The Holy Synod has ordered that prayers be said daily in every church in the Empire, in the army and on all naval vessels at home or abroad, in the chapels of all embassies and legations and in the public institutions of every kind. Special prayers were offered in the Metropolitan and English churches in St. Petersburg yesterday. Archbishop Moghileff has ordered prayers in all Catholic churches in Russia.

Paris, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from Livadia, received at the Russian Embassy at 4:45 o'clock this afternoon, said that the czar was improving noticeably.

The "Galignani Messenger" publishes a dispatch from Livadia, signed by the Grand-Duke Vladimir and dated 1:12 p. m., saying that the condition of the czar has shown improvement for the last two days, but is still grave.

The French Foreign Office has been paralyzed by the reports from Livadia. Business has been at such a complete standstill that Lord Dufferin, the British Ambassador, has been unable to finish his negotiations as to colonial questions. He will go to London on October 20 or early next, as there is nothing to be done here.

The Russian Archbishop in Paris thinks the czar's improvement is due to the intervention of Holy John of Gronsandt. Holy John is regarded throughout Russia as a miracle worker. It is said that he has a hypnotic power which is manifested whenever he lays hands on a patient. His treatment consists of praying, laying on of hands and rubbing with oil.

The Pope has authorized the Archbishop of Paris to order prayers for the czar in all the churches in his diocese.

A dispatch from Corfu to the "Figaro" says that, notwithstanding the unfavorable reports of the czar's condition, the preparations for his reception there are still in progress.

Copenhagen, Oct. 22.—A dispatch received here this morning from Livadia says that the czar passed a good night, and felt stronger to-day.

London, Oct. 22.—"The Standard's" St. Petersburg correspondent says: "It is rumored that an operation is to be performed on the czar. Medical men here complain that the czar's pulse and temperature are excluded from the bulletins, which, therefore, preclude conjecture as to the possible issue of his illness."

"The Standard's" St. Petersburg correspondent says that officials in Sofia prepared a special service for the czar yesterday, on the pretext that the Metropolitan was absent from the city.

The "Daily News" correspondent in Berlin says:

"The czar walked half an hour in the park yesterday. The doctors keep him out of bed as much as possible, so as to maintain his moral energy and counteract the weakness of the heart, which is increased by lying."

The correspondent ridicules the rumors that the czar is dead and his death is kept secret. He admits it is no secret that the czar's condition never was enthusiastic concerning the succession, mainly owing to the czar's family and the suddenness of the prospect.

"The czar's condition is precarious and pitiable," Ambassador General von Werder will arrive in St. Petersburg to-morrow and is expected to proceed to Livadia. It is understood that all documents in the last three days have been signed by the czar.

The Vienna correspondent of "The Daily News" denies that Princess Alix is expected to be married to the czar. She is expected to be married to the czar's son, the Grand-Duke Michael, who is expected to be married to the czar's daughter, the Grand-Duchess Alexandra.

SOCIALIST OFFICIALS WANT GOOD PAY.

A HEATED DEBATE IN THE FRANKFORT CONGRESS ON THE SALARY QUESTION.

Frankfort, Oct. 22.—The Socialist Congress to-day debated the question of the payment of official salaries. Herr Bebel contended that it would not be possible to pay able Socialists salaries below the market value of their abilities. Well-executed work was necessary, and a high class of intellectual labor should receive adequate remuneration.

Several delegates replied, taking the ground that the present salaries paid by the organization to members of the Reichstag and officials of the party were too high. The maximum, they believed, ought to be fixed at 3,000 marks a year, with a view of putting a stop to a dangerous influx of educated mercenaries.

A heated discussion ensued. Herr Legin declared that the Socialists had no right to squander recklessly the pennies of the workingmen. Herr Bebel retorted that if the Socialists were to do this, they would lose the support of the workingmen.

The majority of the delegates, however, agreed with Herr Legin. The debate was adjourned until to-morrow, when the question of the payment of salaries will be resumed.

Before the debate began Herr Singer read communications from leading Socialists in Budapest, Madrid, and Vienna, expressing the hope that the Congress would further strengthen the party. The latter report was presented by Herr Gerlach.

FOR PLOTTING ANARCHY IN ITALY. MANY BODIES OF "SOCIALIST WORKERS" SUPPRESSED BY THE AUTHORITIES.

Rome, Oct. 22.—Many associations known as Socialist Workers, which have existed for some time in various parts of the country, have been suppressed by the authorities on the ground that they tended to excite and foster class hatred among the people.

The suppression of the Socialist Workers has caused a sensation. The step was taken in the presence of the authorities, and in the presence of the press.

The Prefect of Milan, where there are fifty-five bodies of Socialist Workers, in correspondence with the authorities, has expressed his opinion that the suppression of these bodies is a necessary measure to maintain the peace and order in the country.

IT WAS A WORK OF REVENGE.

DARING ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP A BOARDING-HOUSE.

A LABORER QUARRELS WITH A CONTRACTOR AND A COMRADE AND TRIES TO KILL THEM—A BRAZEN CONFESSION.

Patrick Riley, who is an expert dynamiter, was committed to the White Plains jail yesterday by Justice Tierney, of New-Rochelle, on a charge of attempting to blow up a large frame building, occupied by about one hundred Italian laborers.

The building is on the outskirts of the village near Glen Island, and is kept as a boarding-house by Francesco Marese, Messrs. Murray and Mulloy, who are constructing a new sewer through Weyman-ave., New-Rochelle, employ a large number of Italian, Irish and colored laborers. The Italians, mostly board at Marese's place. Frank Murray, an Irishman, who is employed on the sewer, was also being staying there. Riley was about a month ago, and said that one reason for his attempting to blow up the building was to get rid of Murray and Mulloy.

The men worked day and night on the sewer. For the last week Riley has been on the night shift. It is the rule of the contractors that when a man reports late, he loses the whole day or night's work. On Saturday night Riley was about an hour late in reporting for duty, and an Italian was put in his place by Foreman Francesco Marese.

Riley was indignant at this, and blamed the foreman and Murray. He went away Saturday night, threatening to "get even."

Sunday night, when the Italians were drinking beer and playing cards in the building, Antonio Caserio went outside for something, and saw a man about one hundred feet from the building. He called out: "What are you doing there?" and received the reply, "None of your business."

Riley was indignant at this, and blamed the foreman and Murray. He went away Saturday night, threatening to "get even."

FOUR BURNED TO DEATH.

CHILDREN OF THE REV. AND MRS. ROSS TAYLOR, OF NYACK, LOSE THEIR LIVES.

THE PARENTS AND OTHERS IN THE HOUSE HAD NARROW ESCAPES FROM THE FLAMES, WHICH DESTROYED THEIR NEW HOME.

The new home at Nyack of the Rev. Ross Taylor, son of Bishop Taylor, Methodist Episcopal Bishop of Africa, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday morning, and four of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor's children were burned to death.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, together with two sons, and S. A. Kean, of Chicago, escaped. Some painters and a laborer, who occupied an upper floor, and two servants also escaped.

The house was on the South Mountain, and was surrounded by several acres of ground. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have lived at Nyack in tents, during the construction of the house, which was built of stone, near the top of the hill, just west of Hillside-ave., and was occupied about two weeks ago.

Mr. Kean, who was spending Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, gave this account yesterday to a Tribune reporter: "About 4 o'clock this morning I was aroused by a noise in the hall. I called, but received no answer. I then went into the hall, found that the fire was under full headway, and spreading rapidly up the stairs, which were in the middle of the house. I took the baby, and he and Mrs. Taylor escaped from a second-story door by means of a plank. Mrs. Taylor called the children, and her husband rushed back to save the children. Four of these were asleep on another floor, the boys on the north and the girls on the south side of the house. Mr. Taylor, who was in the room, tried to get to the stairs, but he was unable to do so. The girls, Harriet and Ada, probably never awoke, owing to the swift headway of the flames. The bodies of the four children were found charred and unrecognizable, about two hours after the flames were extinguished. Stewart and Willie, the two older sons, jumped from the third-story window, and were considerably injured. The servants and the painters who were completing their work on the house, and the laborer, also jumped from the windows, receiving severe injuries. As for myself, I jumped from a window, and landed on a little mound back of the house, which broke my fall, making my descent only about two stories. I had just time to seize my clothes, and, finding of my hands, when I made the leap. I immediately assisted Mr. Taylor in escorting Mrs. Taylor to the home of Mrs. Potter, in Hillside-ave., a short distance from the house. Mrs. Taylor was in a state of shock, and was unable to give any account of the fire. She said that she had been in her room, and was in her night clothes and barefooted."

Mr. Kean added that the entire village was aroused, and the utmost assistance was given. The house is a complete ruin. The cost of the building was about $15,000, and it was said to be insured for $4,000, sufficient to cover the loss. The fire was caused by a gas leak, and the gas was ignited by a light.

The origin of the fire is somewhat mysterious. It is said that the painters and laborer boarded with Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and lodged in the house, that they had been drinking, and returned some time between 1:30 and 3 o'clock in the morning. The supposition is that they lighted a cigarette, and the cigarette caused the fire. The two painters, Edward Valenta and William Ruth, were brought to this city yesterday afternoon, and are now in St. Francis's Hospital, in East Fifth-st., where they are being treated. Ruth lives at No. 24 West Nineteenth-st. His statement, made yesterday, is that he was awakened by a gas leak, and that he was in his room and awoke his bedfellow, Valenta. When he reached the hall again it was filled with flames. Rushing back to his room, he tried to save his things, but he was unable to do so. He was then burned about the face and hands before he succeeded in escaping from the window. He says he fell on a stone-pipe, and losing consciousness, he fell into the street. He is now in St. Francis's Hospital, in East Fifth-st. His condition is not so serious as that of Ruth. His stay in the hospital will probably be about a week.

Michael M. Mulhally, the laborer, also slept on an upper floor. He jumped from a window, and escaped with severe injuries. He is now in St. Francis's Hospital, in East Fifth-st. His condition is not so serious as that of Ruth. His stay in the hospital will probably be about a week.

The bodies of the four children, Harriet, Ada, Arthur and Schultz, respectively, were taken in nine, seven and five, and were taken to St. Francis's Hospital, in East Fifth-st. A REBUKE TO DEMOCRACY.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND'S WARNING AT THE MEDAL OF HONOR LEGION DINNER.

TO THE PARTY, HE SAYS, THAT STIRS UP RELIGIOUS STRIFE IN POLITICS—GENERAL C. H. T. COLLIS CHOSEN COMMANDER OF THE LEGION.

Archbishop Ireland gave a slap at the Democratic party in his speech before the Medal of Honor Legion at the Holland House last evening, when he characterized the introduction of religious prejudice into politics as a boomerang, which returns upon the party which it is intended to strike.

HE CARES ONLY FOR HILL.

THE SENATOR'S FRANTIC HUNT FOR VOTES FOR HIMSELF.

READY TO SACRIFICE ANYTHING AND ANYBODY TO ESCAPE DEFEAT—HE COMES HERE TO CLUB TAMMANY AND THE STATE DEMOCRACY INTO "HARMONY"—WHAT HE EXPECTS TO ACCOMPLISH IN CONGRESS AND AS SENATOR.

The desperate condition of David B. Hill's canvass made necessary expeditious movements on his part yesterday. It was beginning to grow dark when he arrived, wearing a pale and anxious look, at the Park Avenue Hotel, where are the Democratic State headquarters. He had come from Albany on the limited train. Mr. Hill remained in the city just forty minutes, and then took the 7:30 p. m. train for Yonkers, where he spoke last evening.

He found William C. Whitney, Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan, Mayor Gilroy, Police Commissioner Martin, Perry and August Belmont, E. Ellery Anderson and Chairman Hinkley and Thacher waiting to see him. The cause of the candidate's coming was his anxiety about the condition of "Democratic harmony" in this city and Brooklyn. He wanted to impress upon his friends the urgent necessity of excluding all rival Democratic candidates from the Congress and Assembly districts so as to prevent trades, deals and vote-swapping, which might act disastrously upon the head of the Democratic ticket. To Mr. Hill's mind, the election of a Democratic Governor this fall is a matter of overshadowing importance, and he proposes that, no matter whose ambitions are crushed or how many enterprising and loyal Democrats are sacrificed in the mad effort at Democratic harmony, no votes shall, if possible, be lost to David B. Hill. He therefore proposes that there shall be no two Democratic candidates for Congress or Assembly in any district where, by their remaining in the field, the result might be the election of a Republican. He intends that either the Tammany candidate or the State Democracy candidate shall be turned down, and he arranged for having conferences with both sides to-day at Democratic State headquarters.

TAMMANY WILL BE HEARD FIRST. The Tammany Hall conference will be the first one to-day. Mr. Hill expects to meet William C. Whitney, Richard Croker, Hugh J. Grant, Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan, Mayor Gilroy, Police Commissioner Martin and several more. Senator Charles J. Faulkner, of West Virginia, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, is to be here to-day to take part in the arrangement of the Congress changes. William R. Grace and Francis M. Scott and possibly some other Democratic chiefs will go to see Senator Faulkner and Senator Hill this morning to arrange for having their side of the case presented.

As to the Tammany Hall candidates for Congress, Mr. Hill will demand the retirement of Henry C. Miner, of the Xth; John Connelly, in the XIVth, and James J. Walsh, in the XVth. He may also decide that General Daniel J. Hill, who is in the XVIth, must give up his seat. He will also demand that the candidates for the Assembly must be turned down, and he arranged for having conferences with both sides to-day at Democratic State headquarters.
